RISKS AND BENEFITS OF MENTAL HEALTH TREATMENT

Receiving mental health services can have benefits and risks. Since therapy often involves discussing unpleasant aspects of your life, you may experience uncomfortable feelings like sadness, guilt, anger, frustration, loneliness and/or helplessness. On the other hand, receiving mental health services has also been shown to have many benefits. Therapy often leads to better relationships, solutions to specific challenges and significant reduction in feelings of distress. However, there are no guarantees of what will be experienced while participating in mental health treatment. In either situation you will have the support of your therapist throughout the process.

CONFIDENTIALITY

Consent to Services:

All information given to or obtained by program therapist/ counselor/physician will be used only for your treatment/rehabilitation and administration of the program. Information may be released for the purpose of your treatment or rehabilitation services or if required by Federal Law or in response to legal investigations and court order. Information requested about you for any other purpose can only be released by your written consent.

By signing this document, I am acknowledging that I have full knowledge and understanding of the program, its requirements, and my rights, and agree to participate according to the standards that have been set forth. I am in agreement and understanding of the intake process, program responsibilities, my responsibilities, and the termination process. I am also aware that I can choose to discontinue participation at any time. I have received A New Client Orientation session that included policies and procedures and I authorize the Lifting Stigmas and Changing Lives LLC. to bill on my behalf for services.
